

Four Injured In Pair of Auto Crashes

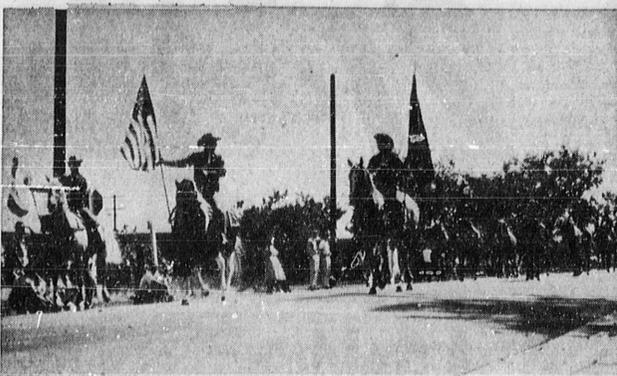

Four persons received minor injuries in two traffic accidents here Sunday, according to Torrance Police reports.

Robert A. Cisneros, 21, 2068 W. 203rd St., attached to the U. S. Navy, was taken to Harbor General Hospital when the car he was driving went out of control and struck a power pole on Torrance Blvd. The accident occurred about 6 p.m.

Three persons suffered minor hurts when cars driven by Michael B. Conrad, 31, Los Angeles, and Robert A. Bass, 52, Redondo, collided at 190th St. and Crenshaw Blvd. Police reports indicate that Conrad was attempting to turn left from Crenshaw into 190th, when the mishap occurred.

Conrad, Morty Cook, 35, Los Angeles, a passenger in Conrad's vehicle, and Mrs. Betty [released, authorities say.]

Walterians on Parade

Walterians had themselves a big day Saturday, a day which started out in the morning with a parade and wound up later in the day with donkey baseball, scores of contests, and a huge community picnic (See Betty Mitchell's account of the affair on Page 12.) Shown above here is the South Bay Kitchette Band, a conglomeration of washboards, pots, pans, funnels, and other strange instruments from which the Jadies actually get music. On the left are two of the several large groups making up the parade on Newton St. Saturday forenoon. Horsemen are members of the Torrance Mounted Police while the marching unit is the Walteria Boy Scout Troop. Other Scout troops, mounted groups, and various units marched in Saturday's parade.
